

COOKIE POLICY

This policy was last updated on 17 June 2018.

What Are Cookies?

Cookies are pieces of data sent to your browser when you visit a website and stored on your computer's hard drive. Cookies may store user preferences and other information. For example, cookies can store your session information for easy log-in to a website or platform, or your language or user interface customization preferences or may allow websites to record your browsing activities (for example, number of page views, number of visitors, and time spent on each page).

We use both session ID cookies and persistent cookies. A session ID cookie expires when you close your browser. A persistent cookie remains on your hard drive for a set period or until you delete it. You may refuse to accept browser cookies by activating the appropriate setting on your browser. However, if you select this setting you may be unable to access certain parts of our Website. Unless you have adjusted your browser setting so that it will refuse cookies, our system will issue cookies when you direct your browser to our Website, the ACMS, and Other Tools.

We use cookies to track your activity while using www.carconnectivity.org or www.mirrorlink.com (the “Websites”, the ACMS and Other Tools forming the CCC Services (as defined in our privacy policy CCC Privacy Policy)). The unique Session ID that is stored in the cookie is also stored on our server for a period of no more than 3 hours and is then deleted.

How do we use cookies?

We primarily use information from cookies for the following purposes:

Cookie name	Categories of Use	Purpose	Your choices
csrftoken sessionid PHPSES SID Bugzilla _login Bugzilla _loginco okie LASTO RDER _first_pa geview _jsuid	Strictly Necessary	These cookies allow to link the actions of a user during a browser session to allow navigation around web pages, access to secure areas of the Websites, the ACMS, and Other Tools or Platforms and help make the services work. Without these cookies, basic functions of the Websites, the ACMS and Other Tools would not work.	You can block or delete these cookies by changing the browser settings as explained below.
gtag.js analytics. js _ga _gid _gac_<pr operty- id>	Analytics	These cookies allow us to recognize and count the number of visitors and to see how visitors move around the Websites when they are using it. This helps us to improve the way our Websites works, for example by making sure visitors are finding what they need easily. The information collected through these cookies include anonymous traffic statistics, like number of page views, number of visitors, and time spent on each page.  We use cookies from Google Analytics, a web analytics service provided by Google Inc. ("Google"). Please note that third parties linked from or providing certain features of the Websites (including, for example, advertising networks and providers of external services like web traffic analysis services) may also use their own cookies, over which we have no control. These cookies are likely to be analytical/performance cookies or targeting cookies.

The CCC does not control the placement of such cookies, and use of these cookies is governed by the third party's own privacy and cookie policies.

Other technologies

The CCC may use a tracking technique that employs embedded URLs to allow use of the Websites, the ACMS and Other Tools without cookies. Embedded URLs allow limited information to follow you as you navigate the Websites but are not associated with Personal Data and are not used beyond the session.

How to adjust your cookie settings

On most web browsers, you will find a "help" section on the toolbar. Please refer to this section for information on how to receive a notification when you are receiving a new cookie and how to turn cookies off. Please see the links below for guidance on how to modify your web browser's settings on the most popular browsers:
